

Improve operations and organizational effectiveness

Communication providers face challenges such as; disruptive technology changing trends, adopting digital technologies, availability of suitable infrastructure to meet the demand, managing IT costs, providing effective services to customers and growing market etc.

Companies have started embracing the latest technologies and attempting to make the most out of these challenges to achieve a competitive edge and offer the best to their customers. The customer demands a high level of availability and reliability and want to leverage the significant investment they've already made in their existing infrastructure.

Sofbang helps industry leaders in the Communications industry improve operations and maximize organizational effectiveness. With our Designed for Change methodology, we deliver solutions focused on Oracle's comprehensive suite of applications to support the Communications industry. These solutions can be tailored to meet the needs and help companies increase revenue, streamline operations and reduce costs. Our expertise meets the complex needs of the customer.

Solution Offerings

- Legal Document Management
- License Permit and Subscription Management
- Mobile Contracts Management
- Mobile Onboarding
- Mobile Proximity Based Marketing
- Mobile Service Request Management
- Mobile Workforce Management

Benefits

- Easy extensions and configuration changes
- Includes connectors and integration adapters for SaaS and On-Premises Apps
- Scalable architecture for enterprise
- Accelerate your time to market
- Reduce dependency on IT
- Increase ROI